To Whom It May Concern,

It is with great pleasure that I write this letter regarding the service that our company receives from BeeLine Moving and Hauling.

We provide services to Fortune 500 companies with their corporate relocations. These accounts demand top-quality service for high level employees. Beeline provides us with the skill set and professionalism that is difficult to find in the moving industry.

BeeLine assists us with discarding and donating items - moving these items from a private home to a charity or discarding facility.

We are required to provide a tax deductible receipt to the homeowner for the items taken to a charity on their behalf, and BeeLine is able to take care of that aspect of the service as well.

I have never had one complaint about the BeeLine workers. They are extremely reliable and always punctual, responsive and easy to work with.

I highly recommend them for any moving or hauling services that one may need. Please feel free to contact me via e-mail or phone for any further detail.

Sincerely,

Susan DiLeo
